-- The MAILING DATE of this communication appears on the cover sheet with the correspondence address --

Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Double Patenting

1. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

2. Claims 1-5 and 9-20 provisionally rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-7, 12, 14-17 and 22-23 of copending Application No. 10/717,332 ('332). Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because both applications claim obviously the same invention in different manners with the following differences: a guide of the coupling member is not claimed in '332, however, a shaft including a securing element slidably coupled to the first body indicates that a guide being with the first body; and a SELF-SUPPORTING position is claimed as a FREE-STANDING position in '332..

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 1-20 would be allowable if the double patenting rejection may be overcome.

4. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: The best prior art of record, Jeong (US 2005/0041380 A1), Karidis et al. (US 6,912,121 B2), Hitomi Hideo (JP 2000-228128), and Ono Junichi (JP 2003-0044169), taken alone or in combination, fails to teach or fairly suggest an electronic device comprising at least: a coupling member coupled to a body case of the device and a display, being adapted to horizontally rotate and translate the display between a first position and a second position as set forth in claims 1 and 16; and wherein the coupling member comprises a guide having a channel portion, and a shaft guided by the guide, a cross section of the shaft being wider than a width of the channel portion when the display is placed in a first position, and being narrower than the width of the channel portion when the display is placed in a second position as set forth in claim 10. Claims 2-9, 11-15, and 17-20 are dependent claims from claims 1, 10, and 16, respectively.
